

Columbus, Ohio Drug Rehab

by Evolve Indy | Jun 5, 2022 | Drug Treatment | 0 comments

Going to rehab gives you the best chance of beating addiction and turning your life around. However, looking for a suitable drug rehab in Columbus, Ohio might prove to be challenging. These days there are many different rehabs around and it can be hard to pick a suitable one.

When it comes to choosing a good rehab, either for yourself or a loved one, here’s what to look for:

Treatment methods available.

Different rehabs use different drug treatment methods to help their clients get clean. Reputable ones like Evolve Indy in Indiana, use evidence-based treatment methods that have been researched and proven to work.

At Evolve Indy, we provide individualized treatment for all our clients and enroll them in treatment programs such as Partial Hospitalization, Intensive Outpatient, and Outpatient programs. Clients go through different treatment programs, stepping up or down to different ones as their treatment progresses. We also offer a Family Therapy program to provide support and education on a family level.

Selecting a drug rehab that uses proven treatment methods increases the chance of recovery.

The addictions they specialize in.

Other than treatment methods, you also need to know what types of addictions the drug rehab specializes in. Do they focus on alcohol and drug use or do they provide treatment for only one of these? When it comes to drug abuse, do they support all types of drug abuse or do they focus on one e.g. opiates? Additionally, does the facility provide support for people with dual diagnosis i.e. those who have co-occurring behavioral or mental conditions?

It’s always best to go to a rehab treatment facility that provides individualized treatment and support for the addiction you’re struggling with as opposed to providing blanket treatment for all types of substance abuse.

The location.

When it comes to choosing a drug rehab facility in Columbus, you don’t have to confine yourself to that location. You can travel out of state for treatment at Evolve Indy. This way, you can get out of the toxic environment that contributed to your addiction while taking advantage of new treatment methods that may be unavailable in your home state. However, keep in mind that traveling for rehab means incurring additional costs for travel and accommodation

The cost of treatment.

You can’t think of going to rehab without factoring in the cost of treatment. Without insurance coverage, addiction treatment costs can quickly add up. That’s why we at Evolve Indy take many types of insurance and also accept different payment methods. This ensures that our clients can easily and affordably access the treatment they need.

Don’t Let Addiction Win

Struggling with addiction will eventually take a toll on all aspects of your life. Don’t let this happen. Drug addiction treatment is available at Evolve Indy in Indiana and we serve people from neighboring states too. So if you’re in Columbus, Ohio, and are searching for a drug rehab to help you beat your addiction, get in touch with us. We’ll be glad to serve you.
